COLONEL CORBIN ON THE FI- NANCIAL SITUATION.

Colonel S. W. Corbin, president of the State Board of Agriculture, in his last annual report to the board, said:
"To ameliorate existing conditions the federal government should cease to do business as a private banker, resume its legitimate functions of the coinage of both gold and silver, charging for this service adequate and sufficient seigniorage to pay expenses, rehabilitate silver as redeemer money; remove the tax upon State banks, thus encouraging State enactments, establishing of banks issued based upon available coin and creditable federal, State, and municipal obligations, the federal government retaining the power to examine and declare what shall be proper assets upon which to base circulation and what the ratio of issue to assets deposited, to secure note-holders against loss, and thus enable the notes to circulate, wherever tendered. Make all import duties payable in gold.

"With all of the vast resources of this vigorous, prosperous, and phe-nomenally wealthy empire, will any one deny the statement that if it was forced to liquidate its obligations it would be precipitated into what is commercially accepted as bankruptcy? To avert this disaster do we now not trade and barter our credit and our resources to the holders of foreign wealth, appealing to them with humiliating adulation and sycophancy to continue their good offices in allowing us to hold intact a reserve of gold, while we at the same time tremblingly concede all and every exaction their cupidity may impose, fearful lest they might withdraw their support and with it their gold? Who will deny that the United States government now maintains its paltry hoard of one hundred millions of gold (to secure its paper issue of a billion of obligations) at the sufferance and will of an alien foreign congregation of money holders? or who will further deny that in event of war or under the pressure of a general demand for redeemer money, the government could continue to pay its obligations in gold?"

"If circumstances demand the further issue of bonds, make them of the denominations of $20, $50, $100 and $500, and give our own citizens an opportunity to purchase them. Bonds of such denominations would from time to time become a circulating medium, often relieving a sudden stringency in the market, and many of our people would prefer them to gold, even to hoard, the latter bearing no interest unless parted with.

"Our people have an abiding faith and confident belief in the ability of the government to meet its obligations, and will accept as a medium of exchange almost anything, provided it has the stamp of the United States Treasury upon it. If more regard was shown to their national pride and sincere loyalty and less attention given to the dictates of avarice and selfish schemes of interested combinations, the finances of the nation would rest upon a much more satisfactory and independent basis than at present. Thus, with silver rehabilitated as redeemer money, a prudent judicious recognition of local wealth upon which to base a circulating medium, we might hope for renewed prosperity in this good land in which God has allowed our lots to be cast. Let us be true to Him and true to ourselves, and we will cease to be the slaves of tribute payers to alien masters. It is true that these changes from existing conditions would make no provision for the accumulation of a hoard of gold on the part of the government, held, as now, available to meet the needs and necessities of brokers and bankers who have to pay foreign obligations. This is not a duty or function of the United States government. Let these people get the gold they need elsewhere than from the national treasury, and prevent them from further use and abuse of the credit of this great nation to subserve their own private ends. This has heretofore been, and is to-day, the most fearful phase of exaggerated class protection with which this country is cursed."

The wife of Mr. Leonard Wells, of East Brimfield, Mass., had been suffering from neuralgia for two days, not being able to sleep or hardly keep still, when Mr. Holden, the merchant there, sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and asked that she give it a thorough trial. On meeting Mr. Wells the next day he was told that she was all right, the pain had left her within two hours, and that the bottle of Pain Balm was worth $5,000 if it could not be had for less. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by L. Stabler & Co., druggists.

As an emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead of all other remedies For the relief and cure of croup, whooping-cough, sore throat, and the dangerous pulmonary troubles to which the young are so liable, it is invaluable, being prompt to act sure to cure.

A False Diagnosis.
La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the forehead, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and suppuration of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work for any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferings. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.
